Finest Quality Seafood Since 1930

City Fish Market started on Main Street in Hartford near the site of today's library. Geno and his three sons then moved the business to a spot on Front Street alongside many other food supply businesses. Today, this beautiful facility is one of our delivery stops as we provide the best seafood and the largest selection to meet their catering needs for major events & conventions.
We offer a seemingly endless variety of fish & shellfish, and lobster is our true specialty. Having a wholesale side in addition to our retail market has allowed us to keep the fresh fish stock rotated quickly and the prices fair.
With responsible family management and a dedicated workforce, we are a company determined to beat the competition on the basics. We will always offer better products, better service, and fully-backed guarantee that you will love doing business with us. We have appreciated the opportunity to earn your confidence for the past 96 years.
We look forward to the privilege of serving you and providing for your seafood needs in the future. That is our vision. We are ambitious. We are innovative. We have the resources, experience, and we want to serve you!
Stop by City Fish Market today to browse our incredible collection of fresh fish at our retail counter, pick up a meaty lobster from our 5,000 gallon holding tank, or enjoy some freshly cooked seafood at our dining room & takeout area.

NOBLE CARE

Adult Day Center

The Power of Connection: How Noble Care Enriches the Lives of Seniors

With the world changing faster than ever, staying socially connected is also more important than ever—especially for seniors. A meaningful everyday life includes pleasant interactions, engaging activities, and a strong sense of community, all of which contribute immensely to an elevated well-being. But for many older adults, finding such opportunities can often be challenging. This is a problem that the Noble Care Adult Day Center seeks to remedy, as it offers a welcoming and supportive environment that brings joy, companionship, and purpose to seniors, specifically those with physical or mental impairments, in Rocky Hill, CT.

With the risk of becoming a 'shut in' at an all time high for seniors, modern research has illuminated the need for social engagement as well as its role in maintaining cognitive function and physical health. Staying connected helps to improve memory, reduce stress, and promote a positive outlook on life. Like people of all ages, seniors who regularly interact with others are often happier and more fulfilled. Recently, the COVID-19 pandemic had a tremendous impact on seniors and their ability to foster good social habits. Given that seniors in general were placed in a high risk category during the pandemic, it is no surprise some, even to this day, have regressed into a pattern of isolation. This makes it particularly important to rebuild and strengthen senior social networks in ways that are safe and enjoyable. With the goal of creating a social center away from home, Noble care was founded to ensure that seniors have an outlet for their social needs and to avoid becoming a 'shut in.' The center, affectionately known as 'the club' by its attendees, provides a vibrant setting where seniors, many of whom have dementia, can participate in enriching activities while their caregivers are not available or take a much needed break.

Unlike traditional senior centers, Noble Care offers structured programs designed to promote engagement and belonging. Because approximately 80 percent of people with dementia suffer from depression, Noble Care is keen on cultivating a lively community in order to ensure its seniors' continued happiness. From creative arts and interactive games to guest presentations and group discussions, every aspect of the program is tailored to inspire joy and connection.

While seniors at Noble Care receive daily mental and sensory stimulation, they also have the opportunity to partake in physical activity. By allotting a total of 75 minutes a day towards stretching, chair exercises, and other physical tasks, Noble Care ensures that seniors are constantly engaging their mind and body.

To know that loved ones are at a place where they can form meaningful connections with others brings peace of mind to the many families currently utilizing Noble Care. Of the many 5 star reviews left about Noble Care's compassionate and necessary service, one stands out stating "Noble Care is a life saver! Mom enjoys her day there and I get to go to work knowing that she is safe and surrounded by friends and friendly supportive staff. She is doing fun things and always is smiling when I come to pick her up". Seniors at the center aren't just participants at Noble Care, they are valued members of a caring community. The friendships, laughter, and memories shared, all enable a fulfilling and enriched life which otherwise wouldn't be possible for someone isolated in their home.
